

Conflict of Interest Form

This form is an agreement that the author(s) of an article declare in connection with the publication of an article submitted that they entirely follow the publication ethic, including the avoidance of plagiarism, misconduct, forgery or dual submission and duplication and there is no commercial interest in this regard, and the authors have not been paid for their work. The conflict of interest form to the readers of an article shows how the text of the article was prepared and presented by the authors. The corresponding author signs and approves this form on behalf of other authors and declares the originality of its content. The corresponding author also states that this work has not been published elsewhere before and has not been presented to another journal at the same time. Also, all rights to use the content, tables, images, etc. have been assigned to the publisher.
